DIVISION X.—EARTHENWARE.

The majority of the objects in this division, particularly those which are decorated in blue, are probably of Kashan manufacture; but so little is known at present with certainty concerning the past centres of Ceramic industry in Persia, that it is considered advisable not to speak positively as to the sources whence the several specimens have proceeded. A similar reserve must be understood as attaching to the dates which have been assigned to the various pieces. But what is at present doubtful will probably have light cast upon it as the result of extended comparison and research.
